Dear Homeowner:

Do you need some expert assistance in finding a new home? We think so because you want the best for you and your love ones... and that means you need a realtor to help you locate a new home or market your current residence when you are ready to relocate.

The Henderson Audubon Board of Realtors consists of professional realtors trained to help you select just the right piece of property. All our realtors are members of the National Association of Realtors, the largest professional association, over one million realtors. Realtors agree to abide by the Code of Ethics, which is a promise of ethical treatment in all phases of selling or purchasing a residence.

Realtors provide in valuable services by providing up-to-date information about the market, prices, financing; marketing your property to the public with our website, multiple listing service, realtor.org; and negotiating and closing the transaction for you. If you would like to view all the listings in our area click on our website www.henderson-realtors.com., designed by David Maish.

The Henderson Audubon Board of Realtors became a corporation on September 14, 1970. The original signers were Stanley Hoffman, Jack Collier, Charles R. Brown, Hecht Lackey, Owen Gregory and Paul Herron, Sr. respected Henderson residents. Our realtors have proudly served Henderson and the surrounding area for 37 years. Quite an accomplishment!

The realtors in recent years have donated time and money to the National Association of Realtors Hurricane Relief, National Association of Realtors Suitcase for Children, Community Outreach and Habitat for Humanity. In 2008 they participated in Relay for Life.

Just remember when you decide to buy or sell your home, it pays to work with a professional realtor. They will guide you through an important purchase with knowledge and finesse.

Sincerely,
Becky East, RCE
